Investment advice is an integral part of financial planning. Investment advice and management is provided with our clients providing guidance in respect to their overall risk tolerance and desired asset allocation. COLLEEN WEBER CPA, LLC does not act as a custodian of client assets, and clients always receive statements and trade confirmations from an independent custodian. We place trades for clients under a limited power of attorney.

COLLEEN WEBER CPA, LLC is strictly a fee-only financial planning and investment management firm. The firm does not sell annuities, insurance, stocks, bonds, mutual funds, limited partnerships, or other commissioned products. The firm is not affiliated with entities that sell financial products or securities. No commissions in any form are accepted. No finder's fees are accepted.

Other professionals (e.g., lawyers, accountants, insurance agents, etc.) are engaged directly by the client on an as-needed basis. Conflicts of interest will be disclosed to the client in the unlikely event they should occur.

The initial meeting, which may be by telephone, is free of charge and is considered an exploratory interview to determine the extent to which financial planning and investment management may be beneficial to the client.

Item 5: Fees and Compensation

Description

COLLEEN WEBER CPA, LLC sets its fees for the Wealth Management Services based on the complexity of work. Fees are negotiable.

Fee Billing

Wealth Management Services:

Fees for Investment Management Services are charged quarterly in advance. Fees are pro-rated, payable within the first 15 days of the quarter, or upon contract execution. Client authorizes COLLEEN WEBER CPA, LLC to debit fees directly from one or more designated accounts. COLLEEN WEBER CPA, LLC may change its recurring fee by notifying the client at least 14 days in advance of the fee change.

The quarterly fee charged may vary from client to client, but will be relatively consistent across clients of a similar nature. Fees are assessed based on factors such as number of accounts, account sizes, number of positions, services provided, complexity of account management, and complexity of financial planning services as appropriate. Quarterly Investment Management Services fees range from $2,000 - $20,000.

Fees are negotiable at the sole discretion of COLLEEN WEBER CPA, LLC. COLLEEN WEBER CPA, LLC, in its sole discretion, may waive its minimum fee and/or charge a lesser fee based upon certain criteria (e.g., historical relationship, type of assets, anticipated future earning capacity, anticipated future additional assets, dollar amounts of assets to be managed, related accounts, account composition, negotiations with clients, etc.). COLLEEN WEBER CPA, LLC does not solicit prepayment of more than $500 in fees per client six (6) months in advance.

Other Fees

Clients are responsible for the payment of all third-party fees (i.e. custodian fees, mutual fund fees, transaction fees, etc.). Those fees are separate and distinct from the fees we charge.

All brokerage commissions, stock transfer fees, and other similar charges incurred in connection with transactions for the account will be paid out of the assets in the account and are in addition to the investment management fees paid to us. While we take measures to ensure the fees charged are accurate, it is your responsibility to ensure the amount of fee charged is correct.

Termination of Agreement

COLLEEN WEBER CPA, LLC reserves the right to terminate any engagement where a client has willfully concealed or has refused to provide pertinent information about financial situations when necessary and appropriate, in COLLEEN WEBER CPA, LLC's judgment, to providing proper financial advice. Any unused portion of fees collected in advance will be refunded within 30 days.

Item 6: Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

Sharing of Capital Gains

Fees are not based on a share of the capital gains or capital appreciation of managed securities.

COLLEEN WEBER CPA, LLC does not use a performance-based fee structure because of the potential conflict of interest. Performance-based compensation may create an incentive for the adviser to recommend an investment that may carry a higher degree of risk to the client.

Item 7: Types of Clients

Description

COLLEEN WEBER CPA, LLC generally provides investment advice to individuals, trusts, estates, corporations or business entities. Client relationships vary in scope and length of service.

Account Minimums

COLLEEN WEBER CPA, LLC does not set any limits on size of investment accounts or client net worth. However, there is a $2,000 minimum fee for Wealth Management Services.

Item 8: Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

Security analysis methods may include charting, fundamental analysis, technical analysis, and cyclical analysis.

The main sources of information include financial newspapers and magazines, inspections of corporate activities, research materials prepared by others, corporate rating services, timing services, annual reports, prospectuses, filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, and company press releases.

Investment Strategies

COLLEEN WEBER CPA, LLC provides Investment Supervisory Services, defined as giving continuous advice to a client or making investments for a client based on the individual needs of the client. Through personal discussions in which goals and objectives based on a client's particular circumstances are established, COLLEEN WEBER CPA, LLC develops a client's personal investment policy and creates and manages a portfolio based on that policy. COLLEEN WEBER CPA, LLC will manage advisory accounts on a discretionary basis. Account supervision is guided by the stated objectives of the client (i.e., maximum capital appreciation, growth, income, or growth and income).

COLLEEN WEBER CPA, LLC will create a portfolio consisting of one or all of the following: individual equities, bonds, other investment products, and no load mutual funds and exchange traded funds. COLLEEN WEBER CPA, LLC will allocate the client's assets among various investments taking into consideration the overall management style selected by the client. The mutual funds will be selected on the basis of any or all of the following criteria: the fund's performance history; the industry sector in which the fund invests; the track record of the fund's manager; the fund's investment objectives; the fund's management style and philosophy; and the fund's management fee structure. Portfolio weighting between funds and market sectors will be determined by each client's individual needs and circumstances. Clients will have the opportunity to place reasonable restrictions on the types of investments which will be made on the client's behalf. Clients will retain individual ownership of all securities.

When appropriate to the needs of the client, COLLEEN WEBER CPA, LLC may recommend the use of trading (securities sold within 30 days), short sales, and/or margin transactions. Because these investment strategies involve certain additional degrees of risk, they will only be recommended when consistent with the client's stated tolerance for risk.

Risk of Loss

All investment programs have certain risks that are borne by the investor. Our investment approach constantly keeps the risk of loss in mind. Investors face the following investment risks:

- Interest-rate Risk: Fluctuations in interest rates may cause investment prices to fluctuate. For example, when interest rates rise, yields on existing bonds become less attractive, causing their market values to decline.
- Market Risk: The price of a security, bond, or mutual fund may drop in reaction to tangible and intangible events and conditions. This type of risk is caused by external factors independent of a security's particular underlying circumstances. For example, political, economic and social conditions may trigger market events.

- Inflation Risk: When any type of inflation is present, a dollar today will not buy as much as a dollar next year, because purchasing power is eroding at the rate of inflation.
- Currency Risk: Overseas investments are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment's originating country. This is also referred to as exchange rate risk.
- Reinvestment Risk: This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e. interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.
- Business Risk: These risks are associated with a particular industry or a particular company within an industry. For example, oil-drilling companies depend on finding oil and then refining it, a lengthy process, before they can generate a profit. They carry a higher risk of profitability than an electric company, which generates its income from a steady stream of customers who buy electricity no matter what the economic environment is like.
- Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if many traders are interested in a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are highly liquid, while real estate properties are not.
- Financial Risk: Excessive borrowing to finance a business' operations increases the risk of profitability, because the company must meet the terms of its obligations in good times and bad. During periods of financial stress, the inability to meet loan obligations may result in bankruptcy and/or a declining market value.
- Small Company Risk: Securities of small companies are often less liquid than those of large companies and this could make it difficult to sell a small company security at a desired time or price. As a result, small company stocks may fluctuate relatively more in price. In general, smaller capitalization companies are also more vulnerable than larger companies to adverse business or economic developments and they may have more limited resources.
- Value Investment Risk: Value stocks may perform differently from the market as a whole and following a value oriented investment strategy may cause the portfolio to at times underperform equity funds that use other investment strategies.
